Project 1:

Proposal:

For my Uncanny Valley project, I wanted to take cute / friendly characters and put them in a situation where they felt like they dont belong, I wanted them to be seen in an unwelcoming enviornment where you would likely not see characters like this, as well as distorting their features and giving an uncanny feeling to the image when viewed. I also want to possibly take reference from Death Grips - Year Of the Snitch album artwork, placing facial features on surfaces where they dont belong in an uncanny / unsettling way. I want to take scans from media I had in my house such as Magazines and artwork / photos from DVDs and CDs and using those scans in my work, along with some images I took myself and found on the internet.
